

“James' ability to save teeth that would otherwise be removed is why so many of his patients travel so far to see him for Root Canal Treatment.”

About Dr. James Fitton

He qualified as a dentist from the University of Leeds with merit, following which he worked in general practice in Edinburgh. He then undertook two years as a senior house officer in Oral & Maxillofacial surgery at the Royal United Hospital in Bath and Restorative Dentistry at the Royal London Hospital. It was during this time that he was awarded Membership of the Faculty of Dental Surgery (MFDS) with the Royal College of Surgeons, Edinburgh. Treating complex cases in a hospital environment led James to develop a keen interest in Endodontics (Root Canal Treatment) which resulted in him being one of the few dentists accepted onto the four year specialist training programme at Guy's and King's College London Dental Institute, which he completed with distinction. He has also been awarded the prestigious Membership in Endodontics by the Royal College of Surgeons, England and Edinburgh. This is recognised as one of the highest qualifications in the field.

Heyford Smiles
DENTAL CLINIC

James is highly skilled in managing patients with complex endodontic cases where previous treatment has failed, as well as endodontic surgery, and treats all his patients with kindness and confidence.
